Market Just Sustains Itself at Levels of Previous Days.

ADVANCE IS GRADUAL

Wall Street Rather Inclines Toward Stimson for Gov-

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] New York, October 1.—Owing to the absence of leading operators from Wall Street to-day on account of the automobile race, trading was light, and all mobile race, trading was light, and all the market did was to sustain fiself at about the level of the previous days. Some show of strength was made in the copper shares, and the market for the metal was more firm. Reading and Steel were the leaders. Pront-taking shaded the price of Western Union, which had, advanced about fourteen points in about a week.

15 The bank statement showed a decrease of more than $8,000,000 in surplus reserves and of above $10,000,000 in cash, while loans increased but slightly. Slightly higher money is expected for next week, owing partly to the advance of the bank rate abroad and to the payment of October divi

Maryland had a good rise on good purchases, although officials of the company said there were no new developments that would account for the sudden strength of the issue.

Perhaps the worst feature of the week was the action of American Sugar stock in declining to a new low figure. The selling was said to be by stockholders who held on through the reent troubles of the company, but who have let go because of the nomination of Henry L. Stimson for Governor by the Republican party, and because the company will be exhibited in the present political campaign as a horrible example.

COTTON MARKETS.

New York. October 1.—The cotton market was more or less nervous and unsettled today as a result of realizing for ever the week-end and the government reports on Monday, and also because of the Laucashire lockout, which was said to affect 18,000 operatives. The market opened steady at an advance of 385 points on better cables than expected, suggesting that the English view of the Leucashire situation as local buils, who believe it a cever for spel price, chases.
